

Steven Findlay
Managing Editor
Consumer Reports Best Buy Drugs

Steven Findlay is the Managing Editor of Consumer Reports Best Buy Drugs, a Consumers Union public education project (www.CRBestBuyDrugs.org). Consumers Union is the non-profit publisher of Consumer Reports magazine. Mr. Findlay joined Consumers Union in August 2004. He works out of the organization's Washington, D.C. office.

Prior to joining CU, Mr. Findlay was Director of Research and Policy at the National Institute for Health Care Management, from 2000 to 2004, where his research focused on prescription drug spending trends, direct-to-consumer drug advertising, efforts to improve the quality of health care and health services, preventive care and health information technology. Prior to that, in 1998 and 1999, he was Senior Policy Analyst at the National Coalition on Health Care (NCHC). His work and advocacy at NCHC focused on health insurance coverage, health care cost issues, Medicare reform, and quality of care issues. Before 1998, Mr. Findlay has a 20-year career as medical and health care journalist, writer and editor. He worked at both trade and mass media publications, including USA TODAY, U.S. News & World Report and Business & Health magazine. He covered everything from the early years of the AIDS epidemic to the rise and fall of managed care to the Clinton health reform initiative. He won numerous writing and health journalism awards.

Mr. Findlay received his B.S. degree in Biology and Psychology in 1976 from the University of Colorado. He did graduate work in science and medical journalism at the University of Maryland, 1977-1978. He earned his Masters Degree in Public Health in 1996 from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.
